MEDIA ADVISORY

Monday, May 31, 2010

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Help San Luis Obispo County Animal Services' staff and volunteers find homes for over thirty adorable homeless bunny rabbits. Rabbits make great pets for anyone – seniors and families included.

The ExtravaBUNza is an adopt-a-pet that will be held on the lawn of the San Luis Obispo County Animal Shelter at 885 Oklahoma Avenue, San Luis Obispo, June 5, 2010 from 11:00 am to 4:00p.m.

Breeds of rabbits that are currently at the shelter include:

- | | | |
|----------------|----------------|------------------|
| •Angora | •Florida White | •English spotted |
| •Dutch | •Harlequin | •Californian |
| •Silver Marten | •Havana | •Satin |

Rabbit availability will change if adoptions occur before June 5th.

Rabbit care experts will be available at the ExtravaBUNza to answer any rabbit questions. The adoption fee is only $5.00 and cardboard carriers will be available for purchase for an additional $3.00. Written care and feeding instructions will be included with each adoption.

Come to the SLO County Animal Services' shelter and meet all the available rabbits, cats, kittens and dogs. It's likely you'll meet a four-legged friend to take home to become a new family member.

Media Inquiries should be directed to Animal Services Manager Eric Anderson, (805)781-4409.
